DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 1-20 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-17 of U.S. Patent No. 6,682,099. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are related as genus/species. A review of the patented file record indicates that there are no apparent reasons why applicant was prevented from presenting and fully prosecuting a generic claim during the examination of the parent. Since patentee has voluntarily elected to obtain early issuance of claims directed to a species and to pursue the prosecution of the genus in a continuation, the court in In re Goldman, 29 USPQ 2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993) held that, absent a terminal disclaimer, the patentee would gain an unjust extension of the 17-year term of the species when the broad genus was issued.

Consistent with the holding of In re Goldman, supra, a terminal disclaimer is required before this application may be passed to issue.
